Be The Change Symposium

Environmental sustainability | Social justice | Spiritual fulfilment

How are they connected?

What is the change you wish to see in the world, and what can you do about it?

The Be The Change Symposium gathers a community to address these and the following questions:

*Where are we? | How did we get here? | What's emerging? |
Where do we go from here?*

Initiated by indigenous people of the Amazon rainforest, the Symposium draws on the best of modern knowledge and ancient wisdom, creating an interactive process designed to wake us up and unleash personal motivation for positive choices and change. An inspiring new story is revealed through exclusive video presentations by social change leaders including Paul Hawken, Julia Butterfly Hill, Archbishop Desmond Tutu and others. The day also offers leading-edge information and dynamic group interaction, creating a profound enquiry into how we might face the reality of our global situation, and yet realise a bold vision.

Given the mounting evidence of the acceleration of climate change and the conservative estimates of the time left to avert the tipping point, this is indeed a unique time in history. It gives us the opportunity to make our lives count and to commit them to meaningful action.

We invite you to be part of the change that is emerging – the great turning... she is on her way.

On a quiet day,
I can hear her breathing.'*
